Dear Ms. Handfinger,

We have reviewed the manuscript and tables thoroughly. With respect to the tables, we added information as footnotes that should help the readers interpret the findings relative to the probability levels. There is no information in the body of the manuscript that needed to be addressed in light of the revised tables.

Dr. Dougherty emailed us the copyedited version of our manuscript, which did not include the revised tables (the original tables were with the copyedited version that she mailed to us). I have attached the revised tables with the addition of footnotes to clarify the interpretation of p values. Please let me know if you were able to open the revised tables.

Thank you for all of your assistance throughout the review process.

Again, thanks.
